THERE ARE FOUR GOOD REASONS FOR DISPLAYING YOUR COVERS IN A

WHITE ACE ALLSYTE COVER ALBUM

Something worth collecting is worth protecting! For this reason, if for no other, consider an ALLSYTE Cover Album by White Ace . . . the most durable and usable cover album on the market.

For one thing, there are three different ALLSYTES from which you can choose . . . depending upon the covers you collect. Secondly, with an ALLSYTE your covers are completely visible while being entirely protected . . . and this is accomplished without expensive or messy mounting corners. Thirdly, an ALLSYTE stores conveniently on a bookshelf . . . taking up a minimum of space even when completely filled. Fourthly, the sturdy covers and binding assure that the album will remain in like-new condition for a long time . . . even longer if you keep it in a handy dustcase. Finally, an ALLSYTE (whichever one you choose) is a good-looking album.

With three ALLSYTES available, there's no reason to keep covers in shoeboxes . . . or in albums designed for stamps. It's time to turn to ALLSYTE, America's premium cover album. By WHITE ACE, of course.

THE WASHINGTON PRESS, publishers, MAPLEWOOD, NEW JERSEY 07040

STANDARD

This is the grandpop of the ALLSYTE family, the old favorite for your standard size first day covers. There's room for 100 covers; and even when filled to capacity the album opens completely flat.

JUMBO

No more problems mounting those long commercial size (#10) envelopes, thanks to this album. There is room for 50 of the long ones, and they will be completely protected once you slip them into the clear plastic pockets.

$7.95

CONTINENTAL

Those odd-sized foreign covers aren't album orphans any longer. This one of the trio has room for 50 European size covers, a pretty album that takes up a minimum of space and stores easily on any bookshelf. $7.75

World Weather Watch

First day of issue ceremonies for the 6 and 20-cent United Nations postage stamps commemorating World Weather Watch mark the opening of APS-68 at the Sheraton Hotel, Rochester, N. Y.

World Weather Watch, selected as the theme for APS-68, is a plan for a new world weather system under the direction of the World Meteorological Organization, which will ultimately have a far-reaching, beneficial influence on all mankind, whose environment is, after all, the atmosphere.

It opens up tremendous new possibilities and will serve both practical and research purposes. The plans for World Weather Watch are divided into three categories — the Global Observation System, the Global Telecommunications System, and World Weather Watch centers of various kinds.

The development of the Global Observation System will increase meteorological stations, satellites and sensors.

The Global Telecommunications System not only will collect data but will speed warnings of the approach of bad weather.

Plans for centers in Moscow, Washington and Melbourne have begun. Equipped with high-speed electronic facilities, they will serve as a clearing house for weather, spreading the information to a system of regional centers that in turn will link to national centers.

The new stamps were printed by the Government Printing Bureau, Tokyo, Japan, in quantities of 2,500,000 for the 6-cent stamp, and 2,200,000 for the 20-cent. They were designed by George A. Gundersen and George Fanais of the British American Bank Note Co. Ltd., Canada. Four marginal inscriptions appear on each sheet. The stamp measures 40 x 27 mm. and is perforated 13½.

APS-68 EXHIBITS PROTECTED BY MICROFILM

For the first time, a national postage stamp exhibit is being protected by use of microfilming, which Mrs. Arthur G. Lane, chairman of the APS Stamp Theft Committee, calls "the best method of identification of stolen stamps."

Like fingerprints, each stamp has characteristics that permit it to be identified from other stamps of like design. Microfilm provides the record that can lead to successful prosecution and reclamation.

The Rochester Philatelic Association arranged for the microfilming prior to the opening of the show. Business Systems Marketing Division of Eastman Kodak Co. donated the service of a Recordak microfilming machine, the 16 mm. film, and local film processing service.

A duplicate roll of positive film images was made from the master negative roll. Each exhibitor will receive a section of the positive film for his personal record following the show. The Rochester Philatelic Association is keeping the negative roll for protection until all of the displays have been returned to their owners after the convention. The original negative will then go to the American Philatelic Society for its historical files.

CHAMPION OF CHAMPIONS CLASS

World Series of Philately

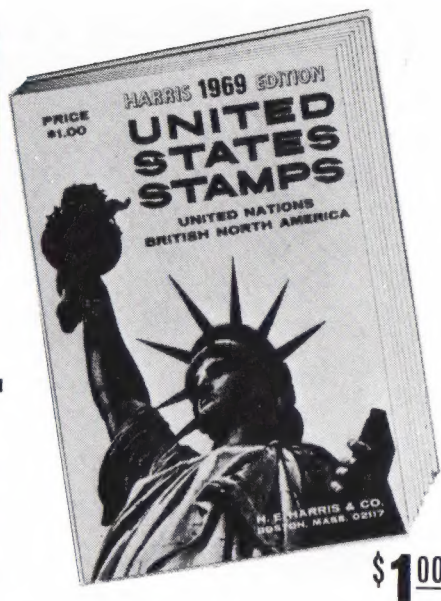

Grand award winners in the major open national stamp shows between July 1, 1967 and June 30, 1968 are competing in this first World Series of Philately. An engraved invitation to participate was presented by the Rochester Philatelic Association only upon verification that the exhibit had taken the top award in open competition. Participants will receive silver plates signifying their Champion status; one will receive Steuben crystal as Champion of Champions.

Champion of Champions Exhibits are in Vogue Room on Mezzanine

Rekindling the spirit of the Yankee tavern.

EAGLE
★Tavern★

In the Eagle Tavern at the Sheraton we've recreated the friendly and warm atmosphere of the old Yankee tavern. And we're true to the tradition from the generous libations, the varied entertainment and nostalgic decor to our attractive, congenial waitresses.

SPACE AND WEATHER EXHIBITS

A "Two Weeks in Space" program on Midtown Plaza Mall, just a short walk from the Sheraton, was open from Sunday, Sept. 8 through Friday, Sept. 20.

Cooperating in the exhibit were the Environmental Science Services Administration of the Department of Commerce, which coordinates the United States' participation in World Weather Watch, and the National Aeronautical and Space Administration. The mall was transformed into a miniature Cape Kennedy with these highlights:

- Exhibits showing meteorological programs associated with World Weather Watch.
- Model of the Apollo spacecraft designed to take astronauts to the moon and back.
- Scale model of the space vehicle assembly building at Cape Kennedy.
- A tracking and data acquisition area showing how ground-based scientists keep track of satellites and spacecraft.
- Demonstrations of the dynamics of circular and elliptical planetary orbits and space probe trajectories.
- Photo enlargements of the moon taken by lunar orbiter and of the earth taken by weather satellites.
